

GAS!!!

Gas takes a million years to form.

Natural Gas has no smell. A special chemical called hernapten is added to make the Gas smell like rotten eggs. Now if there is a gas leak, people will call an expert to fix the leak.

Natural gas was formed deep under the earth about a one hundred million years ago.

There are more than two point one million miles of underground gas pipelines across the united states.

More than half of all the homes in the united states use natural gas-almost sixty two million families.

By Saffron and Oli